There'll Be Someone Missing When the Boys Come Home

An up to the Minute

MARCH

SONG

Words and Music by EARL WILLIAMS

Successfully Sung by

SAMUEL BOTWAY

WILLIAMS, TYSON & BURT

MUSIC PUBLISHERS

519 6th Avenue Brooklyn, N. Y. City

THERE'LL BE SOME ONE MISSING WHEN THE BOYS COME HOME

Words and Music by EARL T. WILLIAMS.

Moth-er dear, dry those tears from your Mil-lions cheer when they hear sound of f
eyes; don't cry, The lad for whom you've yearn'd will kiss them from your eye.
fife and drum. For man - y will be missed and one who'll nev - er come,
Tho' your heart hast ached and yearned
For he's sleep - ing in the field
just to have your boy re - turned, There'll be man - y oth-ers with tears in their eye for the flag he tried to shield. There'll be man - y oth-ers who were just as brave, Who'll think of the day.....When Who fought for the flag .... the he said good-bye, And when they hear the fife and drum for the one who'll never come freedom it gave; They did their share so well, for their country's flag they proudly fell He'll be the one that's missing when the boys come home.
He'll be the one that's missing when the boys come home.

Copyright 1919 by H. C. Gross

Chorus.
There'll be some one miss-ing when the boys come home, Ma-ny a moth-er's heart will ache; . . . . . There'll be p-f
some with cheers and some with tears For the ones who died for their coun-try's sake, ...
For they gave their lives . . . . . for their sweet-hearts and their wives: . . . . . How their hearts will ache and yearn for the ones who'll ne'er re-turn, For there'll be some one miss-ing when the boys come home. home.
1
2